"YEGG" MEN CAPTURED

After Pistol Duel Near Milwaukee

ESCAPED FROM WHITEHALL

King and Morgan, Arrested Here, are Again in the Toils

After eluding the police since Oct. 1904, Frank King and John Morgan, two of the sextette of "yeggmen" arrested here, who escaped from Whitehall on that date, have been recaptured under sensational circumstances at Milwaukee.

In 1904 the local police raided a yegg" camp at Medary and arrested Frank King, John Morgan, Fred Kingsley, James Smooth, William Murphy and James Sheldon.

ay and Sheldon were convict- rcuit court before Judge Frnit ying burglar's ... and were ced to five years ... g, Morgan, Ki... and th were taken to W... er a charge of dyna... at the Pierson pharmacy ... Lau. Oct. 7, a few da... e trial, they broke ou... Whitehall jail and King and ... made good their escape.

Kingsley and Smooth were captured, the former remaining behind the others with Smooth who is old and rather feeble. They were tried and convicted of the Trempealeau burglary and were sentenced to seven years each.

Since then the authorities have been on the lookout for King and Morgan, who escaped.

Saturday while an employe of a whirligig in Milwaukee was talking about the gig he noticed a pile of coats, and kicking them open saw two big revolvers, saws, files and other tools concealed. The police were notified and the chase began. The desperadoes, for there were more than two, concealed themselves in a barn outside the town and fifty shots were exchanged with the pursuing posse. Later they surrendered in an open field after a battle.

Chief Byrne is positive of the identity of Frank King, or "Wisconsin Tommy," as he is known in police quarters, and is satisfied that John Morgan is also one of the men captured. Photographs of the escaped yeggmen were sent to Chief of Police Jannessen of Milwaukee today for identification.

As there is no serious charge against the men in Milwaukee, it is likely that if the identification is positive, Trempealeau county will bring the crooks back to Whitehall to stand trial for complicity in the Trempealeau robbery for which their partners Kingsley and Smooth got seven years.

One of the candidates, a small boy, badly frightened and caused considerable excitement with his screams during the baptism. When it was over he ran up the street screaming.

HILL TRIED TO ENFORCE ORDINANCE

And it Cost Him Five Dollars

LANDED ON A "SPITTER"

Who in Turn Swore Out a Warrant and Took Him Into Court

It cost Lloyd Hill $5 today for attempting to uphold the anti-spitting ordinance.

Hill was sauntering along Pearl street last evening when he came across Olaf Eeg, who in his presence decorated the walk with a large splatter of tobacco juice.

"Don't you know there is a law against spitting on the sidewalk?" asked Hill. "You'll get fined."

"That's none of your business," retorted Eeg. "I'll spit where I choose."

At this juncture Hill "landed" on Eeg, who this morning secured a warrant for his arrest. Judge Brindley fined Hill $5 and costs, amounting to $9.10.

"Seems to me," remarked his honor this morning, quisically, "that Hill is more effective in enforcing the ordinance than our paid officers. But of course," he added, "he was guilty of assault."

JEROME TO DIG IN VILE DEPTHS

Rottenness Uncovered by Mrs. Thaw's Confession to be Probed

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, July 2.—Jerome is vigorously prosecuting a search through the vile depths uncovered by the Thaw-White tragedy.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan this morning examined L. P. Gerghoff and a number of assistants. Berghoff is at the head of the detective agency employed by White, and was personal bodyguard of White some months prior to the shooting.

Berghoff thinks he can refute the charges of criminal immorality agains White. May McKenzie denies Mrs. Thaw expected a child. Mrs. Thaw visited her husband this morning. She was searched and greeted the warden brightly. She said she was in much better health than at any time since the tragedy.

CARS SCRAPED IN NORTH SIDE YARDS

Yesterday about 11 o'clock a small accident occurred in the east North side Milwaukee yards.

A car had been switched near the switch at the "red bridge." It seems that it went about a foot clear of the main line and was in that position when the switchman in charge, left it. The track here, however, seems to be somewhat inclined toward the main line and the car may have been heavy on one end. At any rate the car managed to "creep" back and just far enough over the main line to touch the sides of the passing cars.

About twenty cars were puled by the end of it and the sides of them scraped and a few doors taken off with a few of the handles.

On account of the crew working on the opposite side they did not notice it until the twenty cars had been scraped.

A few of them are foreign cars, but are now being repaired at the north side and will no doubt be sent to their destination today.

SOUGHT SICK CHILD'S REPOSE

There are frequently mitigating circumstances surrounding assault cases, and that is what the court is inclined to think in regard to a complaint of assault made against Henry A. Verkins by "Billy" Mittlebach, a boy.

One of Mr. Verkins' children is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home 1516 Farewell street. Yesterday a number of boys were making a noise in front of the house and Mr. Verkins stepped to the door and explained the circumstancs asking them to desist. The Mittlebach boy declined to go away and became saucy. Mr. Verkins went into the street and boxed the boy's ears. The warrant for the arrest of Verkins followed.

The defendant was in county court this morning and explained matters to the court. Judge Brindley fined him $1 for the assault and trial for 2 this afternoon.

Verkins pleaded guilty and was given a minimum fine of $1 amounting to about $5.

CHILDREN GIVEN HOME IN ROCKFORD

Mary and Viola Stanley, aged 7 and 4 respectively, have been given a good home, temporarily, by Judge Brindley. The custody, at least, by two children was given to J. of the dale of Rockland, this morning. Ties- Tiesdale is a brother of former Mr. trict Attorney Tiesdale of Monroe county.

The Stanley case was set for Friday, but this morning Mr. Tiesdale came into court and entered an application for the children. He said that Stanley, the father, had brought them to his house at one time when their mother, now dead, was ill. He declared himself and wife were fond of them, and would be glad to undertake their care until the father could arrange to give them a proper home. The request was granted.

The mother of the children recently died and the father proved unable to give them a good home, having in the meantime wooed the flowing bowl with regularity.

"Mike St. Mary, who for years operated a saloon at the corner of Main and Front streets, was taken before Judge Brindley this morning on a charge of robbing Jim McGrath of Prairie du Chien of $10.

According to the story of the com- [illegible] he came in on an early [illegible] Friday and met St. Mary [illegible] known saloon. "I may have been a little boozy," said St. Mary to Judge Brindley this morning, "but I never stole a cent in all my life. I don't know very much about law, judge, and I am all shot to pieces over this thing. I wish you would give me an opportunity to get an attorney."

Consequently the case was set for 3:30 this afternoon.

McGrath is a carpenter who had working at Prairie du Chien.

DELAY SAVES NUMEROUS LIVES

Night Ride Deters Many from Boarding the Ill-Fated Train.

The late hour of the New York's arrival at Plymouth saved many lives. She carried more than sixty travelers for London, but many of them elected to travel on comfortably to Southampton in preference to the late landing at Plymouth and the long night ride across the country. If the New York had made a faster passage the somber roster of the dead and injured would have been longer. The big American line steamer reached Plymouth at 9:35 o'clock Saturday night, and half an hour later there was a tender alongside [illegible]ve pass[illegible]s for England. Several who had planned to debark and packed their baggage decided at the last moment to remain aboard. It was a fateful decision, though not dictated by any fear.

The run across the Atlantic had been pleasant. There were cheery partings when the passengers for London transferred to the waiting tender, which steamed for the Devonport landing, where the express was [illegible] made up. The train consisted of [illegible] powerful express engine, three [illegible]-class corridor carriages and one c[illegible]bination guard's van and buffet. [illegible]e passengers were soon entrained [illegible] at 11:30 the express was given a clear track pulled out. [illegible]-30 miles to London, on the run [illegible]press generally maintains which the [illegible]speed of a mile a minute. an avera[illegible]

Driv[illegible] Robins quickly gave the engine [illegible]g swiftly through the night. It [illegible]on safely and without incident until it entered the long railway yard at Salisbury, when the passengers noted that the coaches began swaying from side to side. Suddenly at the end of the long platform, when the track begins to curve towards the bridge spanning Fisherten street, the main avenue of the city, the engine, seemed fairly to leap from the track.

It swung across the adjoining track with terrific force and destroyed the guards' van of a milk train that was slowly steaming in the opposite direction, killing a guard. Lurching forward the locomotive plunged against the standards and girders of the bridge. The bridge withstood the impact, and rebounding the engine crashed into another engine which was standing on a [illegible]sding and overturned. The wreckage of the two engines interlocked in a great broken mass of twisted steel and iron. Throughout the wild plunging of the engine Driver Robins, whether alive or dead, remained in his cab. Hours afterward his charred body was found grilled over the firebox.

The first coach shot over the engine, and careened onward until it was hurled against the parapet of the bridge and smashed into fragments, killing or maiming almost every occupant. One man was shot through the window, cleared the parapet and fell to his death to the street below. The second coach lurched forward and rolled towards a stationary train and practically destroyed itself before its wild flight was ended. The third coach flashed forward with the rest, left the rails and encountered some obstruction, overturned and collapsed.

The guards' van and buffet, the rearmost car of the train, was saved by the courage and quickness of Guard Richardson. With the first shock Richardson jumped forward and set the brakes and saved himself and his comrades. The van ploughed forward, injuring some of its occupants, but practically maintained its equilibrium.

DONALD O'DELL IS NOT INTERNALLY INJURED

While attempting to dive from a pile in the public bath Saturday afternoon, Donald O'Dell of 52 South Fifth street, slipped and fell a distance of ten feet to the boom below.

Severe fits of vomiting occurred and Dr. Maurer was called.

It was at first believed that the boy was internally injured, but this morning it was reported that he would be about in a few days.

W. B. U. DEFEATS VIROQUA'S TEAM

Yesterday the business university boys went to Viroqua to meet that fast team. The clouds threatened interference, but the element were finally appeased and sunshine prevailed throughout the entire game. Kohn, the pitcher for the W. B. U. allowed only three singles during the game. He had the Viroqua boys guessing at all times; his slow delivery was a puzzle to them.

Toland's team started the run getting early in the game. In the second inning Burke scored on a hit by Monti to left field. In the third inning, with two men out and with Swan and Burke on third and second base, Schaldach nailed out a single scoring two more runs. This made the score 3 to 0.

In the fourth, through the aid of an error and a hit, Viroqua scored their first run, and the only run they were able to secure, not a man being able to see second after that.

One run was scored in each of the sixth and ninth innings by the W. B. U. boys making the final score 5 to 1.

Briggs, the flinger for the Viroqua team, pitched a good game, striking out eleven of the Athletes. Kohn succeeded in striking out but four of his opponents, but allowed only three singles, while eleven hits were secured off Briggs.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
W. B. U.	0	1	2
Viroqua	1	3	4

Batteries—Kohn and Johnson; Briggs and Chase.

Notes of the Game.

Kohn secured three hits.

Monti, the new shortstop, played a good game and succeeded in getting two hits.

Burke, who played eight games with the Green Bay league team, was back at first. He played his usual consistent game.

On July 4 the W. B. U. team will play at the West Salem celebration and on the 8th they will play with the Winona team.

NORTH SIDE GOES DOWN IN DEFEAT.

Sunday's game between the Alerts and the North side team resulted in a whitewash of the latter team. The Alerts are playing very fast ball and expect to come out at the head of the list this fall.

They will play the Galesville team at that place on July 4 and a good game is assured. Yesterday's score was 15 to 0 in favor of the Alerts.

Noxalls, 11; Crescents, 10.

In a warmly contested and exciting ten-inning game the Noxalls defeated the Crescents yesterday by a score of 10 to 11. The Crescents had everything their own way up to the eighth inning, the score being 10 to 5 i their favor. The Noxalls fell onto Nunstad for five runs tieing the score. The ninth inning resulted in a goosegg for both. An error on the part of the Crescents let in one run for the Noxalls and in the last half of the tenth the Crescents failed to score. Batteries for the Noxalls, Fiebig and Kolb; for the Crescents Nunstad and Lessig.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS AND ROOSEVELT.

Now that congress has finished its work, it is natural to seek to place upon its record an estimate as nearly as possible accurate. Has President Roosevelt accomplished much? Is the latest congressional record one of valuable achievement? Has congress worked with direct and positive energy for good ends, or has there been a compromise with public wrongs and public wrongdoers?

There is among newspapers the usual partisan tendency to praise or condemn according to the politics of the journal. Republicans sin in characterizing the work of congress and the president as without fault; democrats are inclined to see in it the insincere efforts of weak and vassi- lating politicians. Both we presume, are wrong.

The rate bill, now a law, about which most public interest centers, is the railroad rate bill. A contemporary accurately says that it empowers the interstate commerce commission to fix minimum reasonable rates, subjects express, car lines, etc., together with all charges incident to the transporta- tion such as the elevation, icing, etc., to the control of the commision; provides imprisonment and penalties for rebating or otherwise discriminating; provides appeal to the courts from the order of ruling of the commission; but requires that appeals shall be expidited and forbids the suspension or setting aside of a rate or order except after hearing, of which five days notice shall be given; prohibits free interstate passes except to limited classes; prohibits railroads from producing commodities they transport; increases the interstate commerce commission from five to seven members.

If fault is to be found with the bill a passed, it should justly be directed to the final consent of congress to the elimination of the amendment that would have forbidden oil pipe lines from transporting oil owned by the parties owning the pipe lines. As the bill has already provided that interstate pipe lines shall be common carriers, and as the restriction referred to is analagous to the restriction prohibiting railroads from owning coal mines and transporting coal on their roads in competition with separate coal mining companies who would thereby be at the mercy of the railroad-mine companies, this amendment should undoubtedly have passed. It was killed, owing to the bitter opposition of Standard Oil.

Similarly, there arose in the meat inspection bill a controversy as to who should pay the cost of inspection, and a fight was made by the packers against a clause providing that the date of canning should be printed on all canned meats, the reason for the rule being as obvious as the cause for the packers' opposition. Here, again, democratic papers are with some show of logic pointing to the emasculation of the bill, owing to the clauses in question having been dropped at the demand of the packers.

Other objections are to the omissions in the pure food bill, the passage of which in even so effective a form as finally triumphed was a gratifying surprise. The victory of the tobacco trust in defeating the important Philippine legislation is pointed to with a show of critical displeasure, as it deserves.

These and many other adverse criticisms of the results of the session are, taking them separately, justified. A few things may have been done by congress that should not have been done, but it is the things that were left undone that should have been done that hurt. Viewed as a whole, the session was one of much more than usual activity in the right direction, and while to pass upon as flawless is silly, to condemn its good deeds because of its errors up for passage was involved in a fight in which good measure that all good democrats stood shoulder to shoulder for right, and republicans and lobby representatives endured by both political parties lobbying against the welfare of their constituents. In almost every case the triumph of right was bought by the sacrifice of some principle involved. The session was a series of compromises, the sum total of whose results left the balance quite heavily upon the side of popular justice. Whether or not all or any of these compromises were essential to the achievement of the good done, is an important secret we cannot know.

In all fairness we are obliged to conclude that in its effect the congress was a triumph for right. Not what it did, but what it agreed not to do in order to get other things done, must bear the attack of detractors. Here in Wisconsin, we are inclined to fire at the president and congress the incriminating question, "Is it right to compromise with evil, even in order to accomplish good?" Senator La Follette would say emphatically, "No!" And the sincerity of his belief is evidenced by his own conduct while governor of Wisconsin as emphatically as the efficacy of his no-compromise methods have been proved by his conspicuous success in their application to legislation. We believe he would say victory need not have been lost by compromise through sins of omission.

In justice to the Roosevelt compromise-with-evil-to-accomplish-good policy it should be pointed out that, in the main at least, no affirmative evil was done in trade for the performance of a right thing. It was usually the case that the compromise consisted in a concession that some existing evil be not remedied, providing a certain other evil be remedied. And as all the laws passed are subject to amendment in any subsequent session of congress, it may be looked upon as nothing worse that the deferrment of desired legislation in order that other desired legisation be secured now. It is likely that the proponents of the compromise idea expect that the weak spots in the laws, now represented by the concessions made, will be properly patched with amendments later on. The record is one of active reforms and passive errors.

It is pretty certain that a majority of the American people are inclined to give President Roosevelt and this congress credit for many improvements in the federal laws. It is, we believe, equally certain that the American people prefer the La Follette no-compromise-with-evil policy.

AN ACHIEVEMENT BY SENATOR LA FOLLETTE.

Writing to the Chicago Tribune John Callan O'Laughlin, its Washington correspondent, says:

> Not only will the government investigate the grain elevator trst, as required by the La Follette resolution adopted by the senate the other day, but it will prosecute any of those found guilty of violating the law, and will proceed against the trust itself if the facts warrant such action.
> It developed today that the administration intends to pursue the same policy toward the grain elevator trust that it has followed in the coal and oil investigations which are being made by the interstate commerce commission. That is to say, it proposes to have the interstate commerce commission furnish agents of the department of justice with a copy of all testimony, which will be examined with a view to legal proceedings.
> Evidence is pouring in to the interstate commerce commission from various sources, all of which tends to establish the justice of the charges made against the trust by Senator La Follette. A. B. Sticknel, president of the Chicago Great Western company, was in Washington a few days ago, and conferred with the commission with a view to securing an investigation of the grain elevator service given by Peavey & Company at Omaha, Kansas City, and Council Bluffs, and by the Transmississippi Grain company at Council Bluffs and other points. Stickney charged that these corporations collected toll from the railroads for the elevation, transfer, loading or unloading of grain transported by railroads and declared that the Union Pacific had entered into a secret contract with Peavey & Company and the Transmississippi company to make them an allowance of 1¼ cents a hundredweight on all grain shipped to their elevators and switched free for them only between maha and Council Bluffs. Stickney further declared that the contract is unlawful and licenses robbery of the many for the benefit of the few. In other words, the transfer charge the elevator companies receive, he asserts, is a rebate and warrants the attention of the government.

In all of the United States there will be gratification over the news that the work of bringing the trust rebaters and violators of the law by whatsoever method to book is going on. In Wisconsin there will be added to this pleasure the consciousness that the United States senate "sat on La Follette" with about the same results one would expect from sitting on a bumble bee.

A great man, La Follette worked wonders of reform in Wisconsin. In the scope of his greater field in the federal senate, he is a force to be reckoned with, and a power to be feared and hated by the monopolists. The Badger state may well "view with pride" the efforts of the man who made Mr. Pfister's Eleventh Floor League "view with alarm, etc."

Supposing the La Crosse ice trust were obliged to sell ice at the price of ice low enough to even things up with the people before the officials in Toledo did not hesitate to impose this penalty for breaking anti-trust laws, and they had to PROVE a case. In La Crosse it is necessary; the ice trust has admitted its guilt in a public statement signed by officers of its members.

The Free Press urges Mr. Houser to resign. That, followed by the "unalterable determination" of Mr. Host not to press his candidacy further would clear the atmosphere. A pubic righteousness that forgets to express itself until doing so becomes a sdfish political advantage will not be accepted as proof of sincerity.

The surrender of Mr. Gelatt was inevitable. It never pays to seek the verdict of a jury without even introducing evidence in an attempt to establish a case. Argument without the support of established facts, is now convincing. There may have been a case, but the plaintiff failed to prove it.

Shocked and disgusted as the public is over the crime of millionaire Thaw, it is becoming convinced that he lacked but the authority of law to have become an executioner whose hand no executive clemency would have stayed.

"To him who hath—shall be given" is unchanging "store law." If the merchant "hath" gumption-about-advertising there "shall be given" to him, in increasing ratio, those things in pursuit of which men become merchants.

We may still dare to doubt that Lief Erickson discovered America, but during the saengerfest we will have ample proof that his progeny have located it and are doing their honorable share of running it.

For a few days earthquake, pestilence and war will have to play second fiddle to the small boy as the inspiration of terror.

A distinguished senator fm the northwest strolled into the barber shop in the senate's wing a fe mornings ago for a shave. The chairs were all occupied. The stesman, seeing this, started t go out, with the idea of returning a little lair. But the head barber of the tonsorial parlor sought to detain the senator. He called after him in a rather strident tone:

"You're the next senator!"

The northwestern senator wheeled about, assuming a sad smile, placed a hand over his fast pulsating heart, as though the throbbing there pained him, and said to the head barber:

"Be good enough not to remind me of that any oftener than you can help. I understand fully that I am tabbed, but permit me to enjoy what peace I may until the blow falls." And the occupants of the chairs chuckled under their soapy masks.—American Spectator.

Looee's Nightmare.

Mr. Louis Spear had a strange dream Tuesday night. He dreamed he was shooting prairie chickens, as he is very fond of hunting and got his shot gun and jumped out of the window. His wife was very much frightened and thought he had gone insane or burglars were about to enter the house, so she followed him with a light and said, "Oh, Louis, be careful and don't shoot the cow." When they reached the henhouse, Mr. Spear awoke and found that an old setting hen had died.—Trempealeau Gazette.

HOPE OF WHITE RIBBONS BLASTED BY DAY'S DOINGS

Full Quota of Saloon Licenses Will be Asked of Council at It's Meeting Tonight; 153 Applications

If the advocates of total or partial abstinence hoped from early reports that there would be less than the usual number of saloons in La Crosse during the coming year, their hopes will be blasted by tonight.

Up to noon 130 applications for licenses had been filed with City Clerk Joseph M. Sieger, and all applications form saloons controlled by the Michel Brewing company are yet to come, during the afternoon. The city clerk expects from 153 to 155 applications will be considered by the council at its meeting this evenig. There is no indication that any of the applications will be refused.

MEDALS FOR SCHEUTZEN BUND ARE ELABORATE

Seventy-five beautiful medals are being displayed in the window of George B. Rose, the jeweler.

The design of the medals is a star with a wreath around it and a border of blue enamel. In the center of the star is a target.

The inscription on the medal is "Wisconsin Scheutzen Bund, La Crosse, Wis." These medals are to be shot for by the different members of the Wisconsin Sharpshooters' association during their tournament which opens here this week.

The king medal is of an elaborate design, and is much larger than the others. It is a Maltese cross design, elaborately chased and enameled. Suspended with chains from a finely carved bar is a crown, finished in different colors of enamel. The inschiption on the bar is "Champion, 1906." ferent colors of enamel. The inscrip- "Wisconsin State Bund, La Crosse." The medals which have been won by the different members of the association during the previous years are also being displayed.

one never "feels" the digestive organ. They are forgotten like any other part of a perfect running machine. No jar, no shock, no sensations at all; just easy, pleasant, restful work—duty well done.

The Way

lies in the proper selection of food and drink, getting down to Nature's principles, plenty of good air, good water and particularly plenty of good food that will easily digest, and nourish and rebuild—not clog up.

A Food Expert

understand how the body worked upon food and what kind of elements it required to rebuild itself, used this knowledge in a skillful way to produce a perfect food and called it

Grape-Nuts

There is the natural Phosphate of Potash and Albumen, from which the life forces make the soft gray filling of nerve centres and brain, so brain fag and nervous prostration disappear for the user of Grape-Nuts.

Then again, in Grape-Nuts the starchy part of the Wheat and Barley has been changed into a form of sugar at the factory, and, as that is exactly the condition which starchy food, bread, cake, oatmeal, potatoes, etc., assumes after the first act of natural digestion has taken place, we find Grape-Nuts has passed through this process, outside the body and is therefore properly termed pre-digested, a tremendous help for those who are a bit weak in digestive power. And so comes

LA CROSSE SEEKS CONVENTION AND HIGHEST OFFICE

Local Delegates to Spanish War Veterans Encampment at Racine are After Honors

La Crosse delegates who are at the state encampment of the Spanish War Veterans at Racine today will make an effort to secure the next encampment for La Crosse and have a candidate for department commander.

Racine today welcomed the veterans of the Spanish-American war for the eighth annual encampment and reunion. Public and private buildings have been decorated and the week promises to be a gala one.

The convention was called to order Monday morning. Mayor Nelson delivered an address of welcome. Mrs. J. C. Brandel of Fort Atkinson, wife of the department commander, is ill. It was impossible for him to be here at the opening session. Byron Beveridge of Appleton, senior vice commander, presides.

To Elect Officers.

The sessions will continue Monday and Tuesday, when department officers will be elected and four delegates to the national encampment, to be held in Washington the second week in October will be elected and the place of holding the next convention in 1907 selected.

The camps at Appleton, Beloit, La Crosse and Manitowoc will present candidates for department commander and Lanitowoc may be selected for the 1907 encampment, though La Crosse is hard after it. By Supervisor Keppel:

To the County Board of Supervisors of La Crosse County:

Gentlemen:

Your special committee appointed at your last session, to act upon the matter of changing of the highway, along the west side of the County Poor Farm, in the tow... of Shelby, beg leave to report as follows:

Your Committee met April 7th, 1906, at the County Poor Farm, and went over the road in question, together with other parties interested, and found the road and farms along the line of road in bad condition, caused by the overflow of water, causing much sand and debris washed out upon and over the farming land.

Therefore your committee would recommend that the County Board pass a resolution granting the right to the town of Shelby in said County, to enter upon a strip of land(not to exceed two rods in width) along and adjoining the highway on the East, where said highway is now laid out along the West line of the NW¼ of ...¼, Sec. 15, Twp. 15, Rge. 7, for the purpose of building up a road way of sufficient heighth, along said line, to protect the land of said County, and that the said roadway or dike shall be constructed and maintained by the said Town of Shelby for all time to come.

Provided that in case the highway in question should be discontinued at any time, the land now taken or hereafter taken for said road, to revert to the County of La Crosse.

We would further recommend that this grant or privilege be upon the express provision, that the said Town of Shelby shall build and maintain for all time to come, a bridge of sufficient width and heighth over and across the Pammel Creek, to take care of all the water, or over-flow of said Creek at any and all times, at the place, or near the place where the present bridge is now located, said point being at the NW corner of the County Poor Farm, at the point where the road to the Poor House is now located.

Your Committee are of the opinion, that by the granting of this privilege to the Town of Shelby, and the carrying out of the same, the County Poor Farm will be very much benefited thereby, and would recommend the following resolutions. Dated La Crosse, Wisconsin, May 3, 1906.

REPORT INDICATES GRAIN IS COMING ON FINE

REPORT OF C. & N. W. ENCOURAGING

The fourteenth crop report for this year from along the lines of the Chicago and &Northwestern road west of La Crosse has been issued. It notes the first appearance of reports of red rust but says no damage has yet resulted from this cause. Dry and warm weather is desired. The report says:

" Since the last report there have been rains over this entire territory, but they have not been excessive, and the weather has been warmer. The result is more rapid growth of all the crops, more especially corn.

"There are some reports of red rust appearing in localities where moisture has been excessive, but there has been no damage from such cause. Dryer and warmer weather would be most desirable."

Concerning local crop conditions a local man this morning stated that armers and local grain men were hoping that weather like that experienced today would be continued for some time to come, dry and not too warm. Crops now of all kinds in La Crosse county were in the best possible condition, but if there was much more rain from now on it would be likely to have a dretrimental effect. So far the rains had not been too heavy in this vicinity and there had been not the slightest appearance of red rust.

Barley cutting he thought would begin in about two weeks from next Monday, but of course the time of harvest would depend somewhat on the weather. Barley was headed out nicely and wasfilling out well.

Winter wheat, he said, was only a little more advanced than barley, so that the harvesting of this grain might begin a few days before that of barley, or it might be at about the same time.

Oats he reported headed out well. It would not ripen so rapidly as barley but he thought it would be ready for cutting in from three to four weeks.

The weather this week, he said, had been fine for corn, which had advanced rapidly and presented now an exceedingly healthy appearance.

On the whole he thought local crop conditions could hardly be better than they are at present.

Games Tomorrow.

La Crosse at Freeport.

Oshkosh at Green Bay.

Eau Claire at Wausau.

La Crosse after breaking even with Oshkosh goes to Freeport to open a series of four games tomorrow. That it will be a battle to the death in Freeport is a foregone conclusion and Manager "Pink" Hawley has saved up his heavy twirlers, Schneiberg, Bubser and Jones for the "killing." It is expected Freeport has a crazy idea of making it "four straight," the medicine La Crosse fed Freeport when the team was here.

After the Freeport series La Crosse will come home Saturday for a series with Eau Claire, leaving thereafter for Eau Claire. La Crosse will then be away until July 29, when she will open a home series with Freeport in this city.

Sunday's Games.

Yesterday La Crosse broke even with Oshkosh, winning the first and losing the second in a double header. Both games were good exhibitions, though George seemed in poor luck in the box in the losing game.

The fans were convinced that the first game should have been a shutout, the single score made by Oshkosh, they claimed, undeserved.

In the second game the features were the base running of Geyer, and a couple of neat pickups by Cahill. A double play from Bond to Konetchy to Killian putting Moore out at home and the batter at first aroused much enthusiasm toward the latter part of the game.

Mohr, pitcher for Oshkosh in the final game did good work and "Reddy" Moore, the catcher, was always there. Bond caught a hot liner and put one runner out at third in a fashion which aroused the fans to a wild pitch of enthusiasm.

The attendance was exceedingly large, it being impossible for many late comers to get seats in the grandstand.

FREEPORT, Ill., July 2.—Freeport defeated Green Bay twice yesterday. The games were sensational, especially the first one, when all the visitors get could get off Warner were two hits. The little Freeport pitcher struck out twelve men and allowed no one to walk. Moriarity stole home from third once in each game, a record for the league. Stremmel was forced to give way to Tennant in the fifth of the second game. Scores:

Whitewashed! That was the fate of the Bijou baseball team yesterday morning at the league park when they played with the Gund office force. At various stages of the game it looked as if the Bijou would score but the good pitching of Voight for the Gunds prevented it. The Gunds had to play ball all during the game, however, as the Bijou men made every possible effort to cinch the game and succeeded three times in getting men on third base. This was the first defeat for the Bijou. Gunds have played two games and won both of them.
